Ted's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation in state and federal courts.

Ted has experience in a wide variety of litigation matters, including breach of contract, breaches of confidentiality, securities fraud, class action and collective action proceedings, theft of trade secrets, and patent infringement. Ted prepares demand letters and legal motions; he assists witnesses in their preparation for depositions and trials, and he advocates on behalf of clients in open court. Ted also counsels clients to assist in minimizing the risks of litigation.

Ted earned his bachelor's degree from Vanderbilt University and his JD from Southern Methodist University's Dedman School of Law. During law school, Ted completed a summer judicial internship for the Honorable Jeff Kaplan, Magistrate Judge for the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas. Ted also served on the executive committee for the Science & Technology Law Review, was a member of the winning team for the SMU Mock Trial Competition, and won his first lawsuit as a student attorney with the SMU Law Civil Clinic. Prior to joining the firm, Ted served as a law clerk to the Honorable Barbara M.G. Lynn, chief judge for the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

In private practice, Ted strives to be a strong advocate for his clients, and has achieved favorable outcomes in forums across the country. He is licensed to practice in Texas and admitted to appear in the Northern, Eastern, Southern, and Western district courts of Texas.
